

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Intensive Study Questions

Key Verse: "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor." (Exodus 20:17)

1. In 1 Kings 21 King Ahab begins to pine away over the vineyard belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite (1 Kings 21:1-16). Describe the sequence of events. What advice does Queen Jezebel give to Ahab about his desires? Was there a consequence to acting on his covetous desires? Why does God tell us not to covet others' belongings?
2. If God doesn't want us to covet others' possessions, are there things that we can desire? What might these be? And if he does not wish us to get caught up in pursuit of possessions, why does he tell us to ask freely of him in Luke 11:9-10?
3. There is a relationship between contentment and covetousness. Does a contented person covet? Why or why not? Look at these three passages: James 4:1-3; 1 Timothy 6:6-8, and Psalm 23:1. What does contentedness bring us? How can we become contented if we are not right now?
4. What does Jesus' life teach us about contentedness? Consider the following passages: Matthew 8:20; 2nd Corinthians 8:9; Hebrews 12:2. What did Jesus possess while on earth? What did he possess in heaven? What did he come to bring us? Now think about your life. What is your most prized possession? Would it be important to Christ?
5. Covetousness starts in the mind. Look at Matthew 5:28-29. What measures should we take to avoid covetousness? What might be a modern equivalent of getting rid of the part of your body that is causing you to sin?
6. Look at Luke 12:16-21. What does this parable tell us to store up? How can we store up riches in God's sight? Will concentrating on heavenly things automatically spare us from the sin of covetousness, or do we need to take other, active steps? What might those be?

Women's Bible Study

10 Apps for Life

App #10: God's Contentment – Exodus 20:17

Gretchen Steer – December 1, 2010

Discussion Questions

1. As you look back over your life, what was the object, person, event or experience that you most desired to have and did not obtain? What was your reaction towards the people who possessed that object, person, event or experience? Did it ruin any relationships?

2. The tenth commandment is pretty comprehensive in what we're not supposed to covet: houses, spouses, servants, livestock, and "anything that belongs to your neighbors." Does this mean we are allowed to covet the possessions of people who are not our neighbors? Who did Jesus say that our neighbors are? Why might it be important not to covet the possessions of someone we live in close proximity to?

3. What is the difference between wanting something and coveting it? Are there things that we can legitimately desire without falling into the sin of coveting?