The Ministry of Racial Reconciliation

Scripture: 2 Corinthians 5:14-6:2

One of the most important, significant, and exciting tasks that God gives us is racial reconciliation. In 2 Corinthians chapter 5, Paul explains this work of reconciliation which begins with us being reconciled to God and ends when we are reconciled to one another. On this Martin Luther King weekend, we repent of our sins of prejudice, rejoice in the progress that has been made, and recommit ourselves to the God-honoring work of reconciliation.

“So I say to you, seek God and discover him and make him a power in your life. Without him all of our efforts turn to ashes and our sunrises into darkest nights. Without him life is a meaningless drama with the decisive scenes missing. But with him we are able to rise from the fatigue of despair to the buoyancy of hope. With him we are able to rise from the midnight of desperation to the daybreak of joy.”

Martin Luther King, Jr.
