Hi Friends!

I trust you have enjoyed studying 1 Corinthians 4! I love the words that Paul uses right in the first verse as he says that we are "servants of Christ entrusted with the mysteries God has revealed." My favorite word there is entrusted... It reminds me we have been given a gift, but also have a great responsibility. Oh, how we could just "chew" on that concept for hours! Yet we must consider the entire chapter and what God is teaching us. I pray I have rightly divided the Word of God as I teach you today!

Please remember to register soon for the Devoted Hearts conference and because we know all women like a bargain... I've got an amazing deal for you if you register between now and February 14! Register a group of 10 by Valentine's Day and get one free ticket to the Devoted Hearts conference AND two free Amy Grant concert tickets! That's quite a deal considering the Amy Grant concert is already sold out!

Also, we have lots of students here at ARC who are eager to help you out with chores around your home so they can earn money for their missions trip. Please consider hiring a student today by going to the church website under Student Ministries – It will be a blessing to you, to a student and most importantly, to those waiting to hear the good news of Jesus Christ!

Grateful to study alongside you!

Angie

This, then, is how you ought to regard us: as servants of Christ and as those entrusted with the mysteries God has revealed.
