Dear Friends,

Today we get to hear Jann Wright speak on 1st Corinthians 8 and 9, on the subject Unity in Freedom. I hope that you are seeing a pattern throughout 1st Corinthians, where Paul addresses problems and answers questions for the Corinthians as they learn to get along in their young church. But always he returns to the need for unity in belief and practice, and that is a particularly good lesson for us today.

I missed you during the two weeks I was away visiting our newest grandchild, Jennie Hope Steer. She started small but is rapidly putting on weight, and it was delightful to be there with my son and daughter in law while John was in Africa.

If you haven't yet purchased tickets for Devoted Hearts, please think about it. This annual conference brings together hundreds of women from Minnesota and neighboring states, to enjoy friendship, worship and biblical teaching. Our speakers and worship leaders this year are Karen Kingsbury, Margaret Feinberg, Mark Schultz and Theater for the Thirsty with the theme "My Story, His Glory". You can purchase tickets on the website or at Christos bookstore.

Your friend,

Gretchen Steer
