Welcome to WBS,

We are so glad that you have joined us for our study on the Gospel of John. Chapter three with its 36 verses is packed with insights. It features Jesus' conversation with a man named Nicodemus who was an influential religious leader in the community. His encounter with Jesus causes him to totally rethink his attitudes toward religion and what it takes to be in the Kingdom.

Nicodemus is just the first of many examples of people, both men and women that we are going to meet in the Gospel of John who come face to face with Jesus and engage in a conversation. They will be from many walks of life, but Nicodemus is a good place to begin.

Also, in this chapter we encounter a bit of a competitive spirit among John the Baptist's disciples. We will study John's response and how it applies to us and the church today. Hope you got your sidewalks shoveled from the winter storm and are looking forward to journeying through the Gospel of John as we look to the coming spring.

Please continue to pray for Max and Kenna as they recover from surgery.

Blessings,

Jann
