The screenshot shows a dark-themed pop-up window with a light blue border. At the top, it says "Welcome to RightNow Media Groups!". Below that, it explains: "As the facilitator, when you pause, play, and skip forward or back in the video, it will live update for everyone who has joined your group." The window is divided into two columns. The left column is titled "STEP 1" and contains the instruction "Send this link to other RightNow Media users to experience this video together." Below this is a light blue button labeled "COPY GROUP LINK". Underneath the button is the URL "https://groups.rightnowmedia.org/watch/d20b62f0-a496-4c35-8112-c4b2597a9125" and a note "(This link expires in 7 days)". The right column is titled "STEP 2" and contains the instruction "When you are ready to start the group, click 'start group' below." Below this is a light blue button labeled "START GROUP".
